

An exploration session offers children and adults with disabilities and their families an opportunity to explore with an Assistive Technology Specialist educational software and assistive technology in a collaborative environment. This is not a formal assessment but a starting point to identify technology that may help individuals become more independent at home, school or work. Services are offered one-time and are free of charge.

Schedule